About me

I am a 20-year-old Colombian junior Frontend developer and a sixth-semester Systems Engineering student. Passionate about crafting dynamic and engaging web interfaces, I specialize in Next.js, React, and JavaScript. I thrive in both collaborative and independent environments, bringing adaptability, problem-solving skills, and a strong commitment to delivering high-quality solutions. My eagerness to learn allows me to quickly adopt new technologies and methodologies, ensuring efficiency and innovation in every project I work on.
